CLOSER LOOK: This Tiller runner takes a step down in price after coming close at the 40K level and winning easily two races back in allowance company at the Fort; looks well prepared to take on this field and the distance definitely suits this mare; Moore sticks in the saddle and will probably stalk the pace while inside and then go for it; serious factor and could be the one.

Brookski can be a terror at times as she is as game as they come and will battle others for the front end often enough; in six starts going seven furlongs she has a record of 6-3-1-1 winning $83K so one can easily see that Brookski loves the yardage offered today; this will be her second start since late September and she is another mare that is fresh and dangerous; watch out.

This filly is difficult to asses since she has been on the turf all season, winning a couple and it has been some time since she last placed a foot on the poly; her record indicates that she is 2/10 in the win column on the synthetic surface and she does bring an excellent work on the poly into this hunt; trainer Baker places her at the $32K level and will be looking for a top effort from this filly; might happen and this one is the sleeper in the group.

Leaves allowance company and a route affair and moves back into the claiming ranks for this try; we know from past history that she is a hard knocker and will not pack it in easily, however Bandeau does run into some talented rivals and her very best will be needed for a top three finish; nonetheless she is very game and could surprise more than a few so keep in your tri and your super tickets.

Her last outing was on the turf as her connections checked her out one more time on that surface; now back to the poly, she takes on rivals that look to have an edge over her on this day; although she has won at the distance we do not see her repeating this time around and that means she will be blanked for the 11th time in 2015; fringe player.

This mare was on the shelf from mid August to early October where on her return she ran an even race and never contended; now, after 6 weeks she comes back to the action and jumps up to a higher level to compete against some salty rivals; do no think she can handle the best in here and by a good margin so we'll take a pass and put this lady on the sidelines; not for us. -Bud Williams
