CLOSER LOOK: Cuts back in distance for his local debut run after showing little at Northlands Park last time out; maybe the new shades help him to get involved earlier at this reduced trip, but this guy hasn't been a threat on dirt since getting his number put up in his maiden score at Los Alamitos last fall; he does own some competitive numbers and worked sharply from the gate here last weekend so maybe he likes it here and will have more to offer at a price.

Barn's second runner in here beat some of these to the wire at a short price in the local prep for this, making him a perfect 2 for 2 over the strip; there's not a lot of pace up top as he shoots for 4 straight in this spot, but he's been able to rally regardless of the scenario in front of him and again looks to be the one they'll have to hold off.

He's hit the board in 4 of 5 this year and ran out of ground while finishing just off a couple of today's foes last time; added half panel does figure to help his kick and he always passed runners through the lane, but starting to get he feeling that he's always going to find a way to come up short of the top prize; another minor award looks to be his ceiling.

They took him back to track the pace in the initial stretchout try last time but he ran on late like a runner who really wants to route; expect they'll be more aggressive with him early this time and that could help in a field without a lot of lick signed on, but this is a big step up the class ladder and he'll need to continue improving to have a say in the outcome; they'll have him to catch.

He was beaten just a couple of lengths by a few of these guys in the prep for this a few weeks back; he's now been beaten by at least one of these in 5 straight and it doesn't look like he's going to get any more pace to run at in this one; maybe for a minor share.

Tactically inclined colt has been a big threat in his starts since stretching out here early in the summer; he's got but a maiden score to his credit, but he was pretty sharp in the narrow defeat behind a short priced winner who returns here as well in that last one and he figures to get the jump on him again in here; contender.

Makes his first local start after showing little against a cheaper set at Northlands Park in his first start under this barn's care; he did earn some solid numbers back East in the spring and has a right to move forward in his second start back from 3 months on the shelf; worth a look at a price.

Lightly raced sophomore wasn't beaten much against fellow BC bred when sent long for the first time in just his third career start; while he can keep improving in his second route try, he's not going to get a lot of pace to run at in this spot, but he's one who should be doing his better running in the lane.

Outside drawn gelding makes his run from well out of it and will cut back a quarter of a mile in this spot; while he's in career best form, this type is always at the mercy of the pace scenario and things don't figure to be too hot up top in here; may arrive on the scene a little too late this time. -Steve Grabowski
