CLOSER LOOK: Out of the money in the three tries at 9 furlongs, this is a very ambitiously placement off the claim but hey, when the pot is $1.5 million, sometimes you have to take a shot; this runner did win the Grade 3 Iowa Derby in 2013 but he is 0 for 5 for this barn and was losing ground late last time; show horse in the Hooper two back took the Grade 3 Razorback and then repeated in the Oakawn 'Cap with a 110 Beyer; this race is a far cry from beating 6 in a $40K claimer like he did last October.

The Kelso win last year jumps off the page and he did improve in the Beyer department in the 2nd off the layoff run to close out 2014; winner of the 2014 finale repeated in the $100K Jazil, then was out of the money twice; if one thinks he just needed last, you can build a case for a move forward but can't fault those that are a big gun shy with the recent chalk flops.

Talented but untested, he has fired every time and note show horse in the loss was 16 lengths clear; the Mineshaft last time returned okay as the 7th finisher took a $65.4K classified allowance, 8th finisher beat $50K optional foes next out and the 4th finisher was 3rd a head in a $62.5K optional next out; gelding has shown the ability to track and win or come from the clouds like he did in the opener; the inexperience could be a serious negative at crunch time.

He had a legit excuse in the only loss when totally compromised in the BC Classic; this star has been ideally managed as he makes his first start outside of California; place horse in the Malibu took the G2 Palos Verdes next out, 5th finisher 12/26 took a state-bred $20K optional next and the Malibu 9th finisher beat optional claimers next and was 2nd a neck in the Razorback; racer has not missed an oat and the comeback drills are ideally spaced; the one to deny.

Pennsylvania-bred has a penchant for finding the wire; but he is making his Graded stakes debut and he had to be dropped in for a tag to graduate; runner did finish nicely in last getting the final 8th in :12.81; note show horse in last was 9 clear but some may not have cared for the going; he seems to move up in the off going, keep one eye to the sky.

There is no doubt as to how this runner wants to go; that's to the front and try to extend his league; the highlight of his career came in the Whitney at this distance; and he did run with courage in defeat last time; he may have to dust off the Dilodovica runner if he wants to clear: once again, catch him to cash.

Like fact he has won at a number of different venues; place horse in last won next out in a $75K state-bred turf race; Pletcher can keep them going good once they are thriving to the tune of 28%; off a career Beyer, should sit a nice stalk and pounce trip; could pick up some serious pieces and if the chalk doesn't fire, he'll be in the thick of it.

In his lone Graded attempt he was dead last beaten 28 lengths; not good; apparently not much of a work horse but this runner has the kind of speed than will make everybody work for the lead; everybody in this case is Moreno; backers going to get a brief threat, not sold on concept he'll be around at the end.

Connections hoping lightning can strike twice as this runner upset Game on Dude in this race last year; bothered in the BC Classic; it was a sporting gesture to head to Japan but those trips can be taxing; and he has not looked sharp of late; backers can point to fact the winner of the Japan race won next out in the mud and then was 5th in the Dubai World Cup; note he was outside in the 7-horse field in this race last year; needs a major turn around. -Brian Mulligan
